

Wells Fargo Volunteers join Surfrider to keep local beaches clean!

Wells Fargo team members join forces with up to 400 Surfrider volunteers from the Huntington Beach/Seal Beach chapter twice a month, removing an average of 400 pounds of trash from our local beaches during the 4-hour beach clean-up. Trash doesn't fall from the sky, it falls from human hands. And human hands have the power to stop it. Beach cleanups are a fun and easy way to volunteer your time by helping to keep our beaches and ocean clean! For future beach clean up dates go to myvolunteertime.com and search Surfrider.

During June 2011, Wells Fargo Dealer Services in Irvine held a casual week fundraiser and $1,690 was donated to Surfrider's "Rise Above Plastics" program. R.A.P. is a starting point for raising awareness of the problems that plastic brings to our oceans. To learn more about the R.A.P. program, or get involved with Surfrider Foundation Huntington Beach/Seal Beach chapter, visit the chapter website at hsbsurfrider.org.
